

THE TWELFTH OF SEPTEMBER IN BALTIMORE.

The celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Baltimore, in that city, a detailed account of which we find in the American, was unusually interesting. At an early hour, (says that paper,) agreeably to previous announcement, the "Association of Defenders of Baltimore" assembled in strong force at the City Hall; from thence they marched to North street, where they formed in line, to await the arrival of their visitors from York, with whom they intended to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of that day, when, in the battle field at North Point, they united to save our own good city from the grasp of a ruthless and vindictive enemy.

The stands of colors (six in number) which were borne in the battle of North Point were brought out on the present occasion, and displayed in the ranks of the Defenders. Although torn and faded, as they would unavoidably be after a lapse of thirty years, they were objects of special and intense interest to all. The banner of the Association was decorated with a beautiful wreath of flowers, which had been presented in the morning by a young lady.

When the extra train of cars from York came within two squares of the depot the party within alighted. The visitors, consisting of the remnant of the gallant company of "York Volunteers" and the committee of arrangements from York, with their escort, (comprising several military companies from York,) were then formed in line, and marched to the intersection of Saratoga street. Here they were met by a committee of reception, headed by Gen. Anthony Miltenberger, Vice President of the Association of Defenders of this city. On reaching the centre of the line, where were stationed the surviving members of the "York Volunteers," sixteen in number, surrounding the very stand of colors under which they fought at North Point in 1814, they were addressed, on behalf of the Association, by Gen. Miltenberger, who was replied to by Lieut. David G. Barnitz, of the Washington Blues, of York.

The visitors from York then took the post of honor in the line, and the whole body took up its march along the route laid down in the programme, until they reached Whitehall Gardens, on Fell's Point, the place fixed upon for the entertainment intended to be given to the visitors.

The celebration passed off without the occurrence of the slightest incident calculated to mar the harmony and pleasure of the occasion.

PROSPECTS IN NEW YORK.

In the western and southern counties of this State, as we learn by a letter from a reliable friend, now at Binghamton, in Broome county, Mr. Wright is not likely to make as good a run as Bouck would do in that section of the State. His steady opposition to the public works is the cause of much opposition to him. Our correspondent, who has canvassed the State thoroughly, says that it will be Whig, at the last great showing, by many thousands majority.—N. Y. Express.

A correspondent of the Albany Journal says:

"But I have but a moment left me to write. The nomination for Canal Commissioners has blasted every prestige of success, so confidently hoped for from the nomination of Mr. Wright. The ticket has been received here with a burst of execration. Hundreds who attended the Convention, to influence a different result, have gone home firmly resolved to oppose it 'tooth and nail.' It is as good as five hundred votes to us in this county. Did Silas Wright possess ten times his imaginary popularity, this untoward nomination of Canal Commissioners would sink him past recovery."

MEMORANDA FOR SEPTEMBER.

ALWAYS REMEMBER, that the first published act of the first Congress was entitled in part "AN ACT FOR THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN MANUFACTURES."

DON'T FORGET, that the first petition ever presented to the first Congress was from the Mechanics of Maryland, praying for PROTECTION!

BEAR IN MIND, that the second petition presented to the first Congress came from the Shipwrights of Charleston! South Carolina! praying PROTECTION!

KEEP IT IN REMEMBRANCE, that the third petition to the first Congress for PROTECTION came from the Manufacturers of New York city!

REMEMBER, that even Mr. MADISON, who was himself in favor of Protection, could not get a horizontal REVENUE tariff bill through the first Congress.

TREASURE IT UP IN YOUR MIND, that the founders and framers of the Constitution were in favor of PROTECTION!

TELL YOUR LOCOFOCO NEIGHBOR that Washington, Jefferson, Jay, Hamilton, and scores of other great men, the fathers of the Revolution, recognized the justice, and never questioned the constitutionality of PROTECTION.

PROCLAIM IT FROM THE HOUSE-TOPS, that Whig Protection is National and Industrial Prosperity, and that Locofoco Free Trade is ruin to the country and to the people.—New Bedford Mer.

The Locofoco procession, which took place yesterday, was the result of extraordinary efforts which had been made for several weeks past to produce an imposing display on that side. Besides the persons in the ranks from the adjacent counties and the District, there were upwards of four hundred boys; and between two and three hundred persons were on horseback, in carriages, &c. One count made the whole number of persons in the procession, men and boys, 3,899. Another count made the whole number about 3,000. Altogether it was a tame and quiet affair. A gentleman who counted the procession states that there were in it—66 banners, 11 carriages, 5 bands of music, 1 ship, 1 printing press, 1 loom, 1 miniature engine, 1 row boat, 1 miniature shot tower.—Balt. Amer.

A CAPITAL RETORT.—A full load of ladies attended the Ash Pole Raising at Gates, N. Y., a few days since, and when about leaving the ground, the lady, who drove the team, was asked by a Locofoco "whether he should not take the reins." "No, thank you," was the reply of the lady, "we will surrender the reins to no one but HENRY CLAY." The Locofoco sloped.—Rochester Democrat.

The will of Joseph Bonaparte, among its numerous minor legacies, gives tokens of remembrance to friends in this country whom he loved; among others, to the late Judge Hopkinson, Dr. Chapman, who was his physician, Mr. William Short, and Mr. Charles J. Ingersoll.

THE WHIG GIRL.

For the Whig Standard.
AIR.—"The Miller's Maid."
Where the waters of Ohio curl,
Lives many a patriot girl,
La, la, la, &c.
Lives many a patriot girl;
But the fairest and proudest was she that awoke
The song and the laugh when they named Jenny Polk—
La, la, la, &c.

A blustering young Loco came by,
But his courting was "all in my eye."
La, la, la, &c.
But his courting was "all in my eye."
When he told her he'd wed her, and said 'twas no joke,
She replied, "I will have you, if you want vote for Polk."
La, la, la, &c.

"Oh! come he my love," oft he cried,
But, still the gay beauty replied,
La, la, la, &c.
But, still the gay beauty replied,
"I'll give you bright jewels, and you shall look gay,"
But still the fair maiden gave answer this way,
La, la, la, &c.

The Loco tried all that he could,
But his passion was not understood;
La, la, la, &c.
But his passion was not understood.
The maid was unyielding 'till Polk-love gave way,
And the hardy young lover threw his hat up for Clay!
La, la, la, &c.

SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA.—More than three hundred years have now elapsed since the medicinal value of Sarsaparilla has been known, and from that period until the present, various plans have been devised to make a perfect extraction of all its valuable properties, but to our knowledge no preparation has come so near the standard of perfection as that of the Messrs. Sands.

Their valuable Sarsaparilla is now celebrated throughout the length and breadth of our land, and is held in the highest estimation by the medical profession generally. Various interesting and remarkable cures attest its virtues, and we would advise all afflicted with impurity of the blood, scrofulous or chronic affections to make a trial of this great purifier of the corporeal man.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, June 16, 1844.

The fire was doubtless the result of design.

COAL! COAL!! COAL!!!
THE SUBSCRIBERS have now on hand, and will continue to receive, a superior article of ANTHRACITE COAL from John L. Butler & Co. This coal is mined near Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, and is known in this city by the celebrated Butler Coal, which has been highly recommended by all who have used it, as will be seen by the highly respectable certificates annexed:
I used coal last winter, which I purchased of Messrs. John Pettibone & Co., and it gave entire satisfaction.
W. W. SEATON.
PATENT OFFICE, May 31, 1844.
Gentlemen: The Coal that you furnished for the Patent Office during this last spring proved very excellent; and I used the same kind which was delivered at my house. It proved in both cases highly satisfactory.
H. L. ELLSWORTH.
Messrs. J. PETTIBONE & Co., Washington.

OFFICE SECRETARY SENATE, June 1, 1844.
Messrs. Pettibone & Co. furnished a small quantity of Coal for the furnaces of the north portion of the Capitol, and it was reported to be of a good quality. They also furnished at a reasonable price for my own private use, during the last winter, several tons of the same kind of Coal, and I was entirely satisfied with it, finding but little dust from its use, and but little residue remaining than ashes, there being scarcely any clinker left. W. HICKY.

WASHINGTON, June 25th, 1844.
Gentlemen: Having used your Coal, I can cheerfully recommend it as being of superior quality for easy ignition and culinary purposes.
Respectfully,
J. PETTIBONE & Co. WM. SKIRVING.

MAY 31, 1844.
I purchased Butler Coal from John Pettibone & Co. last fall and found it a very superior article.
W. LENOX.
MAY 25, 1844.

I purchased last year, from Messrs. John Pettibone & Co., what he called the Butler Coal. I never used a finer article of fuel. When I can find the Butler Coal, I shall not inquire for any other kind, for I am persuaded there is none better.
JAMES HOBAN.

DANVILLE, PENN. August 2, 1843.
I have bought of Messrs. Butler & Co. some hundred tons of their Anthracite Coal, and sold to persons for different uses, and used considerable of it myself. For burning in stoves and grates, I do pronounce it as good Coal as I ever have made use of; and every person to whom I have sold the Coal say they have never used anything they liked better.
JOHN C. GRIER.

We can produce many other certificates in accordance with the above.
J. PETTIBONE & Co.
N. B. Persons who want their Coal low, will please send in their orders immediately, as it will advance in price, owing to the great demand for manufacturing purposes. We can furnish at short notice any quantity of Hickory, Oak, and Pine Wood, at a small advance, for cash.
Orders received by William Harrower, Grate and Stove manufacturer, 7th street, and James Skirving, Stove and Grate manufacturer, 10th street, Washington city. Those
